

A diagram of a road cross-section. The road surface is shown with a red-paved shoulder on the left and a black-paved road on the right. A dashed line with cross-ticks runs along the edge of the road. A green line with yellow squares runs along the edge of the shoulder. A yellow structure is visible on the left side of the road.

